FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1872.

THE Washington Chronicle, edited by Senator Harian, deples that the policy of Grant's second term will be more liberal toward the South.

The postoffi e of Ham. W. A. Moody, Senator elect from the sixteenth senatorial district, is Gillem's Station, Dickson county, and not Charlotte, as heretofore print.

Hene is "what one woman has done." Mrs. Angusta M. Rodgers, of Brooklyn, has in less than four years received latters patent from our Government for as many as four different inventions: A mosquito canopy, first two are also to-day protected by the great seal of England.

MISS SUSAN B. ANTHONY and her voting sisters, of Rochester, New York, stand not alone in their glory. Other American women also voted on election day for Presithen organizing at Clarksville. Upon dent, among them Mrs. J J. Barker and Mrs. J. G. Noien, of Toledo, O., whose proffered ballots were received and counted and went with the regiment to Virin the third ward of that city. The first voted for Gen. Grant, and the second, the ginia. After serving as Major for a few younger and better looking for Mr. Greeley. THE English occasionally commit some blunders when they attempt to write about American affairs. In her recent work, "A Burgundian Vintage," by Amelia B. Edwards, who has written some charming novels, there occurs a passage well calculated to amuse American readers. Speaking of a busy scene, the writer says: "All day long, like an overseer in a Massachusetts cotton field, Claude paces backward and forward between the courtyard and the vineyard, observant of everything," etc. It appears singular that an authoress, whose books show that she is evidently both an educated and cultivated person, should betray such ignerance. Perhaps she meant to refer to the time when "the crack of the overseer's whip" was heard in the corn and wheat fields of Massachusetts.

An article in the Banner says: "The North is by no means opposed to reconciliation, but it will have not reconciliation through Greeley." By "the North" we suppose the writer meant the Grant party, and thus he tells us that the Grant party will only consent to reconcilia- ed considerable property before the war, tion upon condition that we plight our amongst which was quite a number of political troth to President Grant. We beg to decline. Such reconciliation would betoken an acquiescence in the subversion of the fundamental principles of constitutional government, and an acknowledgement that the war made by the supporters of Greeley against corruption and personal favoritism was unprovoked and unjust. We cannot see that the election of Grant has made the principles, policy and practices of his administration less observious than when they were reprobated at Circinnati and Baltimore. Senators Schutz, Trumboil and Sumper have not been lowered in our estimation by their defeat, nor have Grant, Morton, Cameron and Ben Butler been exalted by their triumph.

VERY IMPORTANT, IF TRUE The Cincinna'i Gazette publishes the following in its Washington special of

"Advices from Tennessee represent that the control of the Legislature of that State will be in the hands of the straight Johnson men, who hold the balance of power between very nearly equal parties. Fortyseven of the seventy-five Representatives are Republicates. The most important business of the session will be the redistricting of the State for members of Congress, in which the Democratic gerrymandering of last year will be rectified."

Perhaps a recount will reduce that "forty-seven" just about twenty-one, while the "straight Johnson men" will be found cooperating fully with their Democratic brethran. These who have been building upon any other calculation will find that they have been employed in erecting castles in

"ARITHMETICS." The century of the Democratic party is Tennessee so far as taken, foots up 66, 106, for Cleatham. Take from this, the five or six thousand who voted for General C. on personal grounds, or from other various motives, and we have just about sixty thousand. The popular vote of the State is over two hundred thousand, - The Ban-

He is at best; that Maynard was very unpopular a lawyer by profession and has already with his party, especially in East Tennessee, He has been in public life but and therefore could not get the party vote. The election however upset that calculation and undeceived some innocent believers in the Banner's "arithmetics." If 66,106 is member of the lower house of the last Genthe census of the Democratic party in Teneral Assembly, and was one of the most acnessee, reckoned from Cheatham's vote, tive and useful members of that body, tawhat is the census of the Banner's little ling an active part in all important discusgo-between? Gov. Brown received in the returns upon which the Banner's calculation is based 96,787. Those were Democratic votes. FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY. OF LONDON. ASSETS.

- $10,593,327 IN GOLD. The Largest and strongest Fire Insurance Company in the World Bear in mind that this Company was established in 1803—is now nearly seventy years old, and has passed triumphantly through all the flery ordeals of this period, doing a uniformly successful business, the latest sales of its Stock being at more than seven times its par value. Also, that this is strictly a Fire has mance Company, and has no Life or Marine liablities. The Receipts at the American Branch Office in New York during the single month of October, 1871, more than paid its Chicago losses. Its Boston losses, according to a dispatch just received, cannot exceed One Millian Dellars, which is not one-tenth of its assets. The Chicago and Boston fires have clearly demonstrated that the larger the Company the more secure the insured. To those seeking Reliable Indomnity, the IMPERIAL offers unsurpassed security.
